

KSAE 2017 CONFERENCE AND EXPO

DECEMBER 5TH & 6TH

RAMADA TOPEKA DOWNTOWN HOTEL & CONVENTION CENTER

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 5

- 8:00-9:00am Morning Brew and Registration
Atrium
- 9:00-9:50am GENERAL SESSION: FREE SPEECH IN AN INFORMATION-OVERLOADED WORLD
Jim Walther, Emporia State University
Grand Ballroom
Being informed requires information. Yet in today's 24-hour news cycle, Wikipedia, and social media, do we have the right information to be informed citizens? Understanding government policies regarding public access to data collected is key. This presentation provides an overview of information policy access and changes. It raises critical questions and gets people thinking: What do we know about how people use information? Do they have the right information, and enough of it, to make informed choices in their lives? How much more access to information do we still need? With the federal government as both a collector and publisher of massive amounts of information, does the U.S. population take advantage of this content? One example of real-world opportunities in Kansas is the expansion of e-government resources, community partnerships, and more strategic use of public libraries throughout the state and nation.
- 10:00-10:50am CEO-ONLY ROUNDTABLE
Mansion Dining Room
The KSAE CEO-Only Roundtable is a confidential, informal event where you can discuss new ideas and current challenges with a small group of your peers. It is up to the participants to set the final issues and topics of discussion based on their needs and interests.
- 10:00-10:50am THE BEST APPS FOR WORK AND LIFE
Ashley Charest, Greater Topeka Chamber of Commerce
Carrie Riordan, Riordan and Associates
Alcoves 1-4
Discover how to use free and bargain technology tools you never knew existed to create professional quality graphics, make your office run smoothly and wow your members. This high energy session will give you dozens of tech tools for work and life.
- 11:00am-1:30pm KSAE LUNCH AND EXPO
Regency Ballroom
KSAE is pleased to bring exhibitors from the state's best hotels, meeting venues, CVBs, products, services and contractors to help association professionals get the job done.
- 1:30-2:20pm STRENGTHS AND WORKPLACE ENGAGEMENT
Kristen Brunkow O'Shea, Heartland Visioning
Grand Ballroom
Through this session, you will learn about positive psychology and employee engagement through Gallup's credible research. Find out why workplace environments, the people who work around you and doing what you do best every day is vital to your own engagement. You will learn how to become one of the 30% of Americans who are engaged in their work and not the 70% who are disengaged. Gallup's Strengths Finder teaches people to work on your strengths not their weaknesses. By the end of this session you will understand why focusing on positive psychology is essential to achieving excellence for you and your organization.
- 1:30-2:20pm UNDERSTANDING UNRELATED BUSINESS INCOME TAX AND ACCOUNTING AND REPORTING DEVELOPMENTS
Brad Owen, CPA, Mize Houser & Company
Alcoves 5-7
If the IRS pays you a visit, will you be prepared? Brad Owen, CPA, will discuss tax reporting of unrelated business activities as well as recent changes in accounting and financial reporting standards for not-for-profit entities.
